

DESIGN

Services at Smithsonian Exhibits

The design studio at Smithsonian Exhibits creates distinct and compelling identities that support each exhibit's thesis and engage visitors to create memorable and meaningful experiences. We tailor and refine the designs to help bring the project team's vision into focus, and we collaborate with all team members to incorporate best practices across disciplines, stay on schedule, and work within your budget to ensure success. What can we design for you?

Contact:

Eric Christiansen
Chief of Design
301.238.2112
christiansene@si.edu

3400 Pennsy Drive
Landover, MD 20785
Main: 301.238.2090
exhibits.si.edu

Services:

Three-Dimensional Design:

- Exhibit Design from Concept to Construction
- Design charrettes and workshops
- Interactive design
- Design consultation and advocacy
- Construction oversight

Two-Dimensional Design:

- Exhibition graphics (Interior and exterior)
- Environmental graphics
- Info Graphics
- Master planning graphics
- Wayfinding signage
- Banners